

Emily Riddington

Head of Search & Senior Appointments

I have now spent one year in my current position within TechNET Group heading up the Executive Search and Senior Appointments team. My specialisms lie in the identification, attraction and engagement of exceptional leaders in the Technology and Digital space. I am passionate about working in partnership with forward-thinking, transformative organisations to define compelling narratives to attract the top talent across the globe.

MY EXPERTISE:

I have strong experience across contingent recruitment, fully retained executive search and research services. From Director through to C-Suite hires, I take a process driven but human centric approach to each assignment I undertake.

- Senior Appointments
- Client Engagement
- Business Transformation
- Executive Search
- Market Mapping
- Research Services
- Project Management
- CTO/CIO/CDO/CPO
- Consulting
- Director/VP Level Hires
- eCommerce
- Team Leadership

RECOMMENDATIONS:

ORDRE

"I recently engaged Emily on a confidential retained search to find us a new CTO. We had very clear ideas on the person specification which allowed for a relatively small pool of potential candidates. However, Emily quickly produced a strong shortlist of profiles and it was clear that she had represented our brand accurately and passionately on the market whilst being mindful of the commercial sensitivity of the search. I found Emily to be extremely proactive, energetic and collaborative, making sure the lines of communication were open with both ORDRE.com and the candidates throughout the process. We now have an excellent CTO joining us who we are sure is going to make a real impact on the continued growth and success of our company. I would happily recommend Emily and TechNET Search. Emily was a delight to work with."

Mark Kelly
COO, ORDRE

"My experience of working with Emily has been nothing short of excellent. Hiring for and applying for senior positions can be complex with unique and sensitive challenges to overcome. Emily's approach navigates these intricacies efficiently and effectively. As a candidate I never felt short of information. I always felt confident the recruitment process was progressing at pace. I always felt my needs and value was represented truly. I would highly recommend Emily from both sides of the recruitment. Be it personal career direction or sourcing quality talent and managing through to a successful hire."

Simon Morton
Engineering Director, Trimble

